

SECRETARY MESSAGE

Dear Members,

With great satisfaction, I am sharing here that our Association has taken an important step forward by introducing its official website. The development is part of our ongoing effort to strengthen internal systems, to bring greater discipline to our processes, and to ensure that relevant information reaches members in a timely and organised manner.

Every professional body grows stronger when its members remain informed, connected, and involved. Surely this digital platform is intended to simplify many administrative functions that were previously dependent on manual communication. Whether it is circulating updates, maintaining records, or coordinating activities, a structured online system helps us work with clarity and consistency. Over time, this platform will also support future initiatives aimed at improving member services and administrative efficiency.

Being a part of the Website Committee, headed by CA Sanjeev Bhandari we felt encouraged to work towards this technological shift so that DTBA remains aligned with modern expectations of governance. The process involved thoughtful coordination, data compilation, and backend preparations, and I sincerely appreciate the cooperation extended by all involved during this venture.

I must mention that presently the website is in its initial phase and when experienced it will certainly call for further improvements. For this I request members to familiarise themselves with the website and to share constructive feedback in the times to come. Every suggestion will help DTBA Team to refine the platform and design improvements that benefit the entire fraternity. Let us move ahead with the collective purpose and continue to build an Association that reflects professionalism, unity, and progressive thinking.

Here, I draw strength from the timeless wisdom of the Bhagavad Gita, which continually reminds me—and indeed, all of us—that the true measure of our actions lies not in perfect execution, but in fulfilling of our responsibilities with selflessness, integrity, diligence, and unwavering faith in our chosen path.

“मयि सर्वाणि कर्माणि संन्यस्याध्यात्मचेतसा। निराशीर्निर्ममो भूत्वा युध्यस्व विगतज्वरः

“One should perform his duty remaining detached, selfless, in avoidance of indolence, while consistently realising his true self.”

Warm regards,
